Corrections to English Translation of 1835 Molotschna Colony Census

The original 1835 census of Molotschna colony was prepared in Russian as it was an official document for the Russian government. This census has been translated into both English and German. In such a huge project, it is inevitable that errors will creep in, no matter how much effort is made to avoid them. This list of corrections compares the Russian original on a microfilm purchased from the California Mennonite Historical Society to the English translation made by the Mennonite Heritage Centre in Winnipeg, Man.

This spreadsheet contains several types of corrections:

- 1. Many are simple errors in the translation and transcription from Russian.
- 2. Faint notes were written on many pages of the census, quite likely in preparation for the 1850 census. These notes appear to show which people had died by 1850 and the surnames of women who married (or re-married) by 1850 or sometimes to where a person had moved. If I could read them, I translated them. If not, I noted their presence.
- 3. German notes at the end of each village that apply to a specific household are mentioned so that a user will not miss them.

This checking is a work in progress and additions will be made over time. I have noted all the errors that I discovered as well as households that I checked and found to be correct. When a farm runs from one page to the next, it should not be assumed that the part of the entry on the page not specified has been checked. Some farms marked "OK" might still have faint notes that need to be translated or German endnotes that should be linked. If you have additional corrections, please submit them to me, and I will add them to the spreadsheet.

Sufficient text is included to identify the error. The specific error and its correction are in bold. No attempt has been made to correct spelling or note variants of names unless it affects the meaning of the census entry.

Entries are ordered alphabetically by village and then by farm number within villages. Comments in brackets are added by checker and not original to census.

I would be very glad for others to send me their corrections and comments. I will add those to the spreadsheet.

I frequently update this spreadsheet, so the latest version will always be posted at the Mennonite Genealogy Forum http://mennonitegenealogyforum.com/forum/Thread-Corrections-to-1835-Molotschna-Census

By comparing the census data to GM6, it is obvious that Gerhard Daniel Fast married Elisabeth (Siemens) Wiebe, who had been the wife of the older Mr. Wiebe's deceased son, also named Dirk Heinrich Wiebe. Thus he was something of a son-in-law to the older Mr. Wiebe.	SBF	20/Dec/2012
